KENTUCKY BANK IS CLEANED OUT

Assistant Cashier Has Left a Shortage of About $201,000.

DEPOSITORS ARE WILD

Serious Trouble Expected in the Town of Newport---Examiner in Charge.

OWNERS ABLE TO PAY CLAIMS

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 19.—Notice of the closing of the German national bank at Newport was posted on the doors this morning. A large crowd assembled and grew to a demonstration. Scores of weeping women were jostled by the angry men vowing vengeance upon the bank officials. There is one hundred thousand dollars in cash in the bank's vaults and it has been decided to remove it to Cincinnati for safe keeping.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 19.—United States Bank Examiner Tucker today took possession of a German national bank at Newport, Ky., and posted a notice that the bank would remain closed pending an examination. Examiner Tucker also announced unofficially that Frank M. Brown, the individual book keeper and assistant cashier was missing and that a partial investigation showed that Brown was short about $201,000. Brown had been with the bank eighteen years and was one of the most trusted men connected with this old bank, and it is stated by the experts that his operations extended back as far as ten years.

The capial stock of the bank is only $100,000. Brown's alleged shortage is double that amount and more than the reserve and all the assets including their real estate. While Alvord got away with $700,000 in New York, he did so in a large bank, but Brown did not have so much to go on and seems to have gone the full limit for a small bank in a city of less than 30,000 inhabitants.

Brown, it is alleged, was living a fast life, with wine, women and gambling in his repertoire. His career was not cut short by any discovery at the bank until a jealous woman gave him away.

Woman Gave Him Away.

Brown was living a fast life and his career was not cut short by any discovery at the bank but a jealous woman gave him away. Brown was a great poker player with the limit it is said never too high and he has been a plunger on the horse races for years.

The officers of the German National bank are wealthy and responsible men and will be able to make good the losses. Among the directors is Paris C. Brown the father of the missing bookkeeper who is known from Pittsburg to New Orleans at every river wharf as the head of the stores for boat supplies.

There are about 1,500 depositors, among them being the two building associations that have the savings of many poor persons. These classes talked more today about the statements given out last Thursday than they did about Brown's operations. Brown, it is said, wrote to a woman, in Cincinnati that he was bound for South America, but the Enquirer will say tomorrow that it has good authority for saying that Brown sailed yesterday and that his destination is China.

GOODYEAR IN SHIPPING

Commissioner of Navigation Reports on the Growth of That Industry in the United States.

Washington, D. C, Nov. 19.—The report of Commissioner of Navigation Chamberlain made public today, says the last fiscal year has been the most prosperous period known to American shipping for several years. Returns for the current fiscal year promise an even more satisfactory record.

For the first time since the civil war the documented tonnage of the United States exceeds 5,000,000 gross tons. On June 30, 1900, American documented tonnage comprised 23,333 vessels of 5,164,839 gross tons, an now amounts to 14,261,000 gross tons. vious fiscal year. British shipping now amounts to 14,261,000 gross tons.

The increase in shipping during the decade was 740,342 tons, of which 502,523 tons stand to the credit of the great lakes. The increase in ten years on the Pacific has been 184,512, due mainly to Alaskan and Hawaiian trade, and on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts only 89,297, while the tonnage on the Mississippi and tributaries has decreased 36,000 tons.

Miss Minnie Gibbs and Miss Evaline Jessup of Edgerton are the guests of R. Davis and family.

GREAT DOCK COLLAPSES,

Killing Two Boys and Causing $200,000 Loss.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Six hundred feet of the Minnesota ore docks caved in at 6 o'clock this morning, throwing 60,000 tons of iron ore into Blackwall canal. Two boys, Thomas Ford and Max Sors, were killed. W. M. Burke was severely injured. It is believed that quicksand was the cause of the caving in of the dock. Had the accident occurred in the daytime great loss of life must have resulted. The damage is estimated at $200,000.

FAMOUS PORTRAIT OF A. LINCOLN FELL

Tumbles From Its Hanging in the White House Last Night—President is Much Disturbed.

Washington, Nov. 19.—With a crash that awakened the sleeping occupants of the White House and greatly disturbed the President and Mrs. McKinley, the magnificent oil-painting of Abraham Lincoln that has been gracing the east room for many years fell to the floor last night and was considerably damaged.

This painting holds a place of honor in the east room, being the first that would greet the eyes of visitors as they would enter the room from the corridor. It is fully seven feet in length and is framed in guilt, the whole affair weighing several hundred pounds.

The painting entirely obscured one of the windows of the room and was hung from a wainscoting. It was this wainscoting that gave way With the painting there fell some plastering and woodwork and this increased the noise of the fall.

A cursory examination of the painting today shows that it is damaged in a number of places. The president has ordered that an expert examination be made tomorrow, and if the damage can be repaired he will have it done. The frame, which was quite valuable, is of course a wreck.

The falling of this picture indicates the decayed condition of the executive mansion.

Artists the world over will hope that little damage was done the painting, because it has been considered the finest likeness of President Lincoln extant. It is the original of countless lithographs, and eminent painters have made copies of it in oil. These copies grace the drawing-rooms and salons of many mansions in this and in other lands.

WILL SUCCEED MOODY

G. Campbell Morgan Resigns His London Position, and Will Take Charge at Northfield, Mass.

London, Nov. 19.—England's comparative lack of religious enthusiasm has influenced the Rev. G. Campbell Morgan to accept a call to continue the late Dwight L. Moody's work in the United States. The young congregational preacher so announced this moring, informally notifying his congregation of his decision to go to America after tendering his resignatin, to take effect in February, 1901.

In an interview Mr. Morgan said:

"The English people are ready for a revival of religious endeavor along Moody lines, but the psychic moment has not yet arrived. I have only one message to the people of America at this time. I am coming to them to follow in Moody's footsteps not to fill his place. No man can do that."

MOVE TO CRUSH THE FILIPINOS

United States Troops Are Undertaking Aggressive Actions.

WAR RAGING IN LUZON

Termination of Rains Permits Resumption of Operations on Both Sides.

TRADE IS AT A STANDSTILL

Manila, Nov. 19.—(First uncensored news by cablegram since the American occupation).—Last week witnessed a very considerable increase of rebel and American activity in the field. Many skirmishes occurred and several small engagements in northern and southern Luzon. The termination of the rains permits a resumption of operations on both sides.

The Americans are undertaking a series of aggressive movements against the insurgents, notably upon the island of Samar, against General Lukban whose forces hold the entire island with the exception of three towns, each of which is garrisoned by two companies of the 29th infantry and a platoon of artillery.

Trade at a Standstill.

The rebels are continually shooting into the garrisoned towns and our forces have not been able to retaliate effectively. Commerce in Samar has been at a standstill and most of the influential inhabitants have departed.

General Hare has arrived here with 250 men. He will bring eight companies of the second infantry from the island of Marinduque, as they may be needed, and will proceed energetically to crush General Lukban. Meanwhile United States gunboats will patrol the coast to prevent the further escape of the insurgent leader. Lukban still holds three members of the 43rd regiment prisoners.

Notable Engagements.

Notable among the week's engagements was General Grant's advance with Maccabebe and American scouts upon a rebel stronghold thirty-five miles north of Manila, which was defended by two hundred insurgents armed with rifles. After skirmishing and fighting for the greater part of a day and night the enemy was dislodged from the mountain fastness, and immense quantities of rice and stores, with rice and ammunition were destroyed. Fifty Filipinos were killed and many others wounded. The insurgents carried off their dead. The American losses were eleven privates and one officer wounded and one Maccabebe killed.

American Captive Heard From.

Lieut. Frederick W. Alstaeter of the engineers, who was captured by the insurgents in Luzon last Septemebr, has sent, with the permission of his captors, a letter to Manila asking for food, money and clothing, which will be forwarded to him by a native runner. His health is broken and his release problematical.

FAMOUS PAINTING OF THE MADONNA

It is Anuounced That P. A. B. Weidner of Philadelphia Has Become the Owner.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 19.—Announcement is made today that the famous Botticelli Madonna, which was sold for sixty-three thousand dollars by Prince Chigi of Italy and smuggled to England, has been purchased by P. A. B. Widener, the Philadelphia millionaire and nows hangs in his country home at Elkins.

The price paid is said to be something like a hundred thousand dollars. The ingenous method of getting the painting out of Italy attracted attention in the art world a few months ago. A modern landscape was painted over the Madonna and passed over the border without government interference. The law requires that all the old masterpices must be kept in the kingdom and upon the discovery of the shipment to London, Prince Chigi was fined the price paid for the painting, $63,000, for the part that he played in the scheme. A London art dealer disposed of the picture, but it has never been known who bought it.

SHORN OF HER HAIR BY FIRE.

Michigan Girl's Celluloid Side Combs Almost Cause Her Death.

Portland, Mich., Nov. 19—While Ethel Moe was sitting by a stove in her home with celluloid side combs in her hair the combs became ignited from the heat and her beautiful head of hair was destroyed. She received several other sericus burns. Her mother was badly burned about the head while trying to extinguish the flames.

GREAT WHITE CZAR IS NEAR A CRISIS

Russian Officials Alarmed Over Condition of Their Ruler.

GRAVE CAUSE FOR FEAR

Relatives Are Hurrying to His Bedside as Fast as They Can Travel.

CZAR CARELESS OF HIS DIET

London, Nov. 19.—The crisis in the Car's condition is now near. His weakened condition and the accompanying danger of complications give the gravest cause for fear, and several of the most eminent physicians in St. Petersburg and Moscow have been summoned by wire to assist the regular attending doctors.

Gathering at His Bedside.

Grand Duke Michael left Copenhagen yesterday morning and is now hurrying to the bedside of his brother. The czarina is bearing up well, but the dowager empress is much depressed for the lack of more favorable news.

A strange circumstance in the case is the fact that the czar's illness has not made any specially deep impression upon the masses, and even many people in polite society do not even know that the governor is ailing.

Causes of Czar's Illness.

The unhealty condition of the palace at Lividia, worry over the Chinese affairs, and his naturally frail constitution are the causes now generally accepted as having brought his sickness. The czar's present residence is exceeding beautiful, but is situathed in the most healty surroundings, and infectious diseases have been rife all the autumn in Yalta. Count Lamsdorff, for instance, was prevented from appearing at court for several weeks by outbreak of diphtheria in the villa in which he was staying.

Russian Official World Anxious.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 19.—The Russian official world is anxious regarding the condition of Emperor Nicholas, but there is a feeling of confidence that he will recover. A foreign office official said last night that the bulletins were regarded as favorable. He called attention to the distinction between typhus in the American sense of the word and typhus as understood in Russsia, where the term corresponds to typhoid in American terminology. Typhoid is common, the official pointed out, in all Russian cities, owing to the defective hygenic arrangement, but is not feared in this country as in the United States.

Czar Careless of His Diet.

Considerable surprise is expressed that his majesty should have contracted a disease attributed to tainted nourishment. It appears, however, that he is imprudent in his diet, does not always follow medical direction, and often drinks any water he can get when walking or driving. The possibility of his having contracted the disease from milk is also considered.

Yet another source of typhoid infection in Russia is quail, there being high medical authority for the statement that the germs have been cultured from broiled quails.

WILL UNITE ALL PAPAL SOCIETIES

Federation of Catholics in America Planned—To Defend Interests of the Church.

New York, Nov. 19.—The project looking to the federation of the Catholic societies of the United States into one great union, whose object, it has been announced, is to insist that Catholics shall not be discriminated against, is to be formally discussed at a meeting of the Catholic clergy and laity at the Fifth avenue hotel in this city on Thanksgiving day. Bishop McFaul of Trenton is one of the leading advocates of the federation idea, and he is expected to give his views at the meeting.

A plan for federating the societies has been prepared by Bishop Messmer of Green Bay, Wis. He denies that the proposed federation is a "union of Catholic societies in the United States of America for the purpose of an organized and common action in promoting and defending Catholic interests on religious social, and civil lines."

As relating to the civil rights of Catholics Bishop Messmer groups the religious rights of Catholics in state institutions and in the public schools, chaplains in the army and navy, the Catholic Indians, taxation of church property, state support of sectarian (Protestant) institutions, and coruption in politics.

MAY TAX FISHERMEN AMEND GAME LAWS

Deputy Game Warden Coons of Milwaukee, Thinks That Lake Fish Should Be Paid For.

Milwaukee, Nov. 19.—"There will be a number of amendments to the game laws offered in the legislature this winter," said Deputy Game Warden Charles Coons yesterday. "One amendment that I think will have to be made in time applies to fishermen who carry on the business on a large commercial basis. We believe that a tax ought to be imposed on these fishermen. They drain the lakes of fish and the state is put to the expense of planting new ones. Then we have to watch their operations, and all this is a burden on the state while they get the profit. Just on what basis we will propose to have a law enacted taxing them has not been decided, but it will be on the amount of business that they do."

Another clause to the game law amendments will be the limiting the number of the pieces of game to be shot and also shortening the deer season from twenty to ten days.

Nursing Bees.

AMERICAN GIRL NOW A DUCHESS

Miss Helen Zimmerman Is Married to Duke of Manchester.

PRETTY ROMANCE ENDS

Young Couple Hope to Win Over Their Parents by Personal Appeal.

STORY OF THEIR COURTSHIP

London, Nov. 19.—The Duke of Manchester and Miss Helena Zimmerman were quietly married in this city on Wednesday. The announcement was authorized last night by Miss Effie Evans, an aunt of the bride.

The news may be a surprise to Eugene Zimmerman, the Cincinnati millionaire, or it may not, as many letters and cablegrams have been sent to the father of the young woman in the last fortnight by the Duke and Miss Zimmerman asking his consent to the marriage, but it is unknown here whether that consent was granted or not. Some of the duke's friends say that it was while others say that it was not.

Spend Honeymoon in Ireland.

At any rate the young couple are now safely married and are spending their honeymoon at Tanderagee Castle in County Armagh, Ireland. On Saturday they will sail for America to get the wealthy father's blessing and perhaps a slice of his big fortune, though the duke declares he wants no marriage settlement nor anything else save the girl and Papa Zimmerman's good will.

When that is obtained the Duke and Duchess will return and live at Tanderagee Castle, where the former young spendthrift promises to set up as a gentleman farmer, county politician and respectable husband.

Duke Is Only 23 Years Old.

The Duke of Manchester who is only 23 succeeded to the title in 1890. He has a boyish smooth shaven face, with a bad complexion, brown hair, dark blue eyes, is of medium height, and stocky build. He has a good education and is an easy talker but considerable of a romancer. Besides being affable, fond of horseback riding and automobiling, he knows every chorus girl in London and is able to make a passable front in any company. At one time he held a good social position, and was betrothed to one of the Wilson girls and later his name was coupled with those of a half dozen other girls.

Helena Zimmerman, Duchess of Manchester, is the daughter of Eugene Zimmerman, millionaire clubman of Cincinnati, O., and the controlling genius of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railway.

Is Beautiful and Talented.

The duchess is a beautiful girl of artistic tastes with no trace of affection, and a leaning towards the church. This on the one hand. On the other, a golfer, winner of six prizes (one with Tom Morris, the veteran golfer of St. Andrews links, at St. Andrews, Scotland), a health culture girl, a fearless horsewoman, owner of such horses as Cloverdale and Rebecca S.; mistress of a stud farm with a race course all its own at Hillsboro, O.; and with all the energy and resolution that have always, from the time that she stepped out of baby clothes, bent all the members of the family to her own will; the woman who would have gone around the world to follow a love that has never yet been understood by her friends.

BULL FIGHT IN MILWAUKEE.

Committee Headed by Mayor Rose Plans a Big Show for the Elks.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 19.—The committee having charge of the arrangements for the carnival during the national gathering of the Elks in this city is considering the feasibility of having a Spanish bull fight as the main attraction. Mayor Rose is chairman of the committee and is also a prominent Elk. His close followers believe that the bull fight will be pulled off if the mayor has his way. The suggestion of the bull fight comes from Joseph Donnelly, who held a consular office in Mexico under the Cleveland administration. He contends that some of the boxing shows given here are much more brutal than the bull fights that he saw in Mexico.

Steamer Friesland in Tow.

COMING SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

THREE IMPORTANT TOPICS FOR LEGISLATIVE ACTION.

Primary Election Law Will Be Pushed by the Governor—It Will Mark a Hard Fight—Equalization of Taxation and Reapportionment of State Next in Public Interest

Madison, Nov. 19—The coming session of the legislature is likely to prove one of the most important that has been held in Wisconsin for many years. Three questions of great importance are to be acted upon, to say nothing of hundreds of minor matters, of interest simply to residents of the sections where they originate. First of all in general interest will be the primary election bill. Next will be the equalization of taxation. Third is the reapportionment of the state into congressional, senatorial and assembly districts.

Either one alone would make an interesting session, but when the three are taken together it will be readily seen how important they will be to the political and material interests of the people of the state.

La Follette the Leader.

The primary election bill is something to which the republican party through its platform declaration is committed, though this does not carry with it a certainity that it will be passed, even with the republicans overwhelmingly in the majority in both houses. The platform two years ago declared for the same thing, but the legislature of 1899 did not see fit to enact such a law. But there is a difference between two years ago and now. Then the party adopted a platform in the interesets of harmony in which were many things which the majority of the party did not entirely subscribe to. Among these was the primary election plan.

This year the leader in the movement for the law is the governor-elect, and there is no doubt that all the influence he can bring to bear will be brought out in its support. This of itself will change matters materially. Then the friends of the law have many more representatives in the legislature than they had two years ago, and the fight will be correspondingly sharper. But all this does not mean a primary election law will be passed. The chances are in its favor, it is true, but if it goes through it will only be the close of a hard fight.

Equalization of Taxes.

There are many who, while admitting the weak spots in the present system, have not brought themselves to believe that the primary election is the medicine needed to purify the political body. The recent results of the election in Minneapolis have strengthened them in that belief, and there is no doubt that the friends of the law will have hard work overcoming the stubborn facts brought out in the northwestern city. Then there is the probabilities of nominees under the primary election system not being the nominees of a majority of the party unless a second primary election is provided for, and that can hardly be thought of on account of the expense.

On the other hand there are many things to be said in favor of some such system, and it is safe to predict that every such argument will be worked to its fullest capacity during the session.

The question of equalization of taxes is one that affects every taxpayer in the state. For years there has been a growing demand that the mater af taxation be placed on a more equitable basis. Tentative atempts have been made to meet the demand, but all have been crude because based on no exact knowledge. Now it is expected that the tax commission, appointed two years ago for the purpose of procuring exact knowledge, will in its report suggest lines on which a new departure may be made.

Contest to be Severe.

It is not expected that the commissioners will be able to perfect a system in the short time allowed them to study a question which has occupied the minds of some of the brightest men in the country for years, but it is believed that a start can be made on good, healthy lines, that will do injustice to no intersts in the state, while making all pay their just share of the burden entailed by the state government. Still for all that whatever recommendations the tax commission may make are certain to be bitterly contested, and the contest will equal in intensity that over the primary election law.

The question of reapportionment is primarily one for the politicians to struggle with. Indirectly the people as a body are interested, but in no such degree as they are in the other two questions. Looked at in a general way, it cannot be seen where the republicans can change the apportionment to their benefit politically, as they now have all the congressional districts by safe majorities, all but two of the senatoril districts, and more than eight-tenths of the assembly districts. Nevertheless there will have to be changes on account of the redistribution of population and other causes.

ECZEMA'S ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetter on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of running sores, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetter had progressed too far to be cured, and they could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble."—MRS. L. B. JACKSON, 1414 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

S. S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores it to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear.

SSS cures Tetter, Erysipelas, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and all skin diseases due to a poisoned condition of the blood. Send for our book and write us about your case. Our physicians have made these diseases a life study, and can help you by their advice; we make no charge for this service. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence.

THANKSGIVING DAY DINNER FOR POOR

Miss Mary Kimball is Preparing For The Annual Spread at the City Mission Home.

Miss Mary Kimball city missionary, is making extensive preparations to feed a large number of poor children at her mission on South Jackson street on Thanksgiving afternoon. Miss Kimball's Thanksgiving dinners have come to be a fixture among the many Thanksgiving dinners given in this city. This year she is making more extensive preparations than ever before. Her Thanksgiving dinner has grown from a small affair into one of large proportions. She is making preparations to feed about two hundred and fifty children about that time.

This annual dinner is a great treat the the large number of poor children who never have a chance otherwise to know what a genuine Thanksgiving dinner is like.

Miss Kimball is largely dependent upon the donations made her by the people of the city to make the dinner a success. She feels sure that if the peopel would call and see the amount of pleasure that the children get from these annual dinners no one would refuse to give something to help it along.

The dinner will be held at two o'clock on Thanksgiving afternoon in the Mission building on South Jackson street.

NOAH RAABY OLDEST MAN IN THE WORLD

He Has Now Reached 128 Years, and Lives in the Poor House—A Queer Character.

New York, Nov. 19.—Noah Raaby, an inmate of the poor house at Plainfield, N. J., is 128 years old, and probably the most aged man in the world. For thirty years he has been a charge of the county, but that does not seem a long time when it is remembered that old Noah did not ask public charity until he was in his ninety-ninth year.

He was born in 1773 at Eatonton, in Gates county, North Carolina, his mother being a Carolinian and his father a full-blooded Indian Andrew Bass by name, which probably accounts for Raaby's longevity. "Uncle Noah," as the attendants and inmates of the poor house call him is much humored by his keepers. He never goes to bed, but uses a high backed rocking-chair for his slumbers. He does this because he is afraid of a ruch of blood to the brain. With the exception of the loss of sight which is total, he is normal in his faculties, and seems to enjoy life. He smokes almost incessently. His hair is thin and almost snow white. The weight of his years has bowed him double but his muscles are hard and strong. He is not of large stature, and weighs about 100 pounds.

On pleasant summer days Uncle Noah walks about the yard and suns himself. He can distinctly remember all about the days of his childhood and his youth and prime, but has no interest in recent happenings. He has used alcohol and tobacco freely for 120 years.

JUNIORS WIN THE DENISON TROPHY

Final Score in Saturday's Game at Athletic Park Was 6 to 0 Against Seniors.

The football game for the Denison trophy on Saturday afternoon resulted disasterously for the seniors, who were confident that the class would hold the trophy for the coming season. The juniors went to the field with blood in their eyes and the determination to get the cup if such a thing was possible. At the finish of the game the score was 6 to 0 in favor of the juniors and they will hold the cup for the ensuing year.

The game was called at 2:30 o'clock and despite the disagreeable weather a crowd of enthusiastic supporters of each class gathered to cheer their respective sides on to victory. Class ribbons and banners were numerous.

Len Mathews umpired the game, Fred Jeffris acted as referee, Frank Hogan and Charles Carr as linemen, while Will Cox and Joseph Fisher were the time keepers. Time of the halves was twenty minutes with ten minutes between the halves.

The first half by a series of brilliant plays by the juniors resulted in a score of 6 to 0. Burpee making a long run and a touchdown and then kicked a goal.

In the second half the juniors fought like tigers to keep the seniors from scoring and were successful, neither side scoring in the second half.

The game was lost to the seniors by their own confidence. The juniors were exceedingly well pleased with winning the game.

SEVERAL HOURS OF SOLID FUN

A large number of the members of the United Commercial Travelers' association gathered at the East Side Odd Fellows' hall last Saturday evening and had several hours of solid fun. Supper was served by a committee consisting of Mesdames J. S. Scidmore, M. F. Greene, Sanford Soverhill and D. N. Hatfield. The tables were loaded with good things and were enjoyed by all present. The remainder of the evening was taken up with a literary and musical program and exhibitions of oratory, for which all commercial travelers are noted.

The first number on the program was a well executed piano duet by Mrs. C. F. Yates and Miss Bertha Yates. Miss Alice Crawford followed with a recitation, Miss Elva Crawford gave a piano solo, Miss Gladys Nicholson a recitation and Miss Bell Angel a vocal solo.

The oratorical contest caused the most interest. At once time six ladies were trying to deliver orations. They started one at a time and others joined in until they were all giving their views on different subjects at the same time. The result can be better imagined than discribed. It created much amusement for the audience.

A supper and entertainment will be given four weeks from Saturday night.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR Y. M. C. A. DELEGATES

Hospitality of Janesville Citizens Asked for Them—Annual Convention Opens Next Thursday.

Secretary Kline of the local Y. M. C. A. is busy making preparations for the annual state convention of the association which begins here next Thursday for a five days' session. He expects from 250 to 300 delegates and these he proposes to entertain at the homes of Janesville people.

He needs more accommodations and he urges upon the people of this city to offer their homes for the entertainment of these delegates.

A delegation of about thirty members of the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. will come on Thursday to attend the annual convention of the state organization of the Y. M. C. A., of which C. B. Willis of that city is corresponding secretary, and Senator J. M. Whitehead of Janesville president. At a meeting of the Milwaukee juniors at the Y. M. C. A. building on Fourth street on last Saturday night it was decided to send a delegation of seven to represent this branch.

Leading Y. M. C. A. workers of the country will attend the meeting, among them C. M. Robinson of New York, newly appointed national junior department secretary; Fred B. Smith of New York, who is identified with the religious work of the international committee; Frank W. Smith of Belleview, O., an evangelist; the Rev. Harris Gregg of Chicago, for thirty-two years international secretary; E. L. Hamilton, railroad secretary for the international committee; C. K. Ober, international field secretary.

The report of the state secretary F. E. Anderson will show a growth in the Y. M. C. A. throughout the state, incuding a new association at Antigo, the reopening of the Y. M. C. A. at Marinette, closed for a year past, and the building of a new $20,000 Y. M. C. A. home at Kenosha.

ONLY FAIR AND REASONABLE

C. H. Van Akin Explains Rockford Mutual's Recent Action.

Editor Gazette: In your issue of Nov. 5 is an article evidently written by someone who is down on Mutual Fire Insurance. It begins: "Local business men who have policies in the Manufacturers and Merchants' Mutual Insurance Co., of Rockford, Ill., are very much worked up over the step taken by the company to assess the policy holders the full limit of five times the annual premium." Now this piece of information, furnished so gratuitously, must have originated in the writer's imagination.

It has never entered the mind of Secretary Carse. The facts are as follows: This Rockford Mutual Co. began business nineteen years ago. In this nineteen years it has given to policy holders over $100,000 in dividends, and has never made an assessment. During the last year and a half its losses have been so exceedingly heavy that they find they can't pay them all without some help, so they come to these parties whom they are carrying insurance for and ask them to return to them a portion of the funds left with them to even up with.

This is only fair and reasonable. The insured has shared the profits and now they say in the pinch, we will do what is right, and the Rockford company wil demand no more. Mr. Editor, did you ever hear of stock companies making assessments? Perhaps you can't answer, so I will post you.

The premiums in this city in 1892 paid to fire insurance companies was $62,285; 1893, $62,107; in 1894, $60,891; in 1898, 47,251.

Now what made the premium in '92, '3 and '4—on the average nearly $62,000—more than in '98?

It is self-evident that it was because Milwaukee and other cities had been having big fires in those years and the stock fire insurance companies combined and raised the rates 20 per cent. on all business risks all over seven states (and how much farther I know not). This was not looked upon as an assessment, but the people found they had to pay it "all the same," (or go without insurance.)

I would like to tell the people also why the amount paid to insurance companies in 1898 was so much less than in 1896, but will pass it now.

I wish to add that Mutual Fire Insurance Companies did not try to "alarm the natives" because of that 20 per cent. advance made by the big stock companies. They went right on about their business.

I wish to say further that the Rockford company has the right to ask for help, but instead of being five times the premium as spoken of in your paper, which would foot up to between $400,000 and $500,000, the assessment will probably be not to exceed the one-half of one ordinary premium on the average.

Did you ever think of it that in Chicago's big fire in 1871, 130 stock companies went up the spout? If the insured in those 130 companies had been in Mutuals, doing business from Maine to California, they would have been in better shape. The Mutual idea is based on the golden rule: "Do as you would be done by."

In a Mutual fire (or life) insurance company, the insured simply agree to pay their share. In the Galveston disaster, hundreds and thousands of people contributed liberally who had never agreed to do it. Is it unreasonable that those insured in Mutuals should help? The people may rest assured of one thing, that there is no chicanery practiced in the Rockford company. They are not ashamed of their record, and wil not ask more than what is actually necessary to even up.

Very truly,

C. W. VAN AKIN.

Boers Move Along Wilge River.

Pretoria, Nov. 19.—Two strong Boer commands, with herds of cattle, have arrived near Balmoral, one on each side of the Wilge river. They have been trekking from the bush veldt, where it is impossible for the cattle to live in the summer.

The object of the move appears to be to reach healthy and good pasturage for the cattle. Gen. Delarey appears to be trying to move south for the same purpose, but has been checked by Gen. Plumer in the Magliesberg passes, which are now firmly held by the British.

The condition of Miss Roberts, a daughter of Lord Roberts, who has been ill of enteric fever, is much better.

No Trace of Schreiber.

New York, Nov. 17.—The Tribune says: "The authorities of the Elizabethport, N. J., banking company have about given up hope of capturing William Schreiber, the young clerk who is alleged to have stolen $109,000 from the institution. They now admit that despite the fact that several detectives have been working on the case, absolutely no trace has been found of Schreiber since he parted with Mrs. Hart in New York on Aug. 27 last.

"They now think he has made his way to some South American country with which the United States has no extradition treaty. The search for him is likely to be discontinued until some tangible clew is gained on which to work."

Wife Slays Her Aged Husband.

Newburgh, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Josiah Phillips, aged 55, a pensioner with one arm, was found dead at his home in this city. His skull was crushed in with a flatiron, and the deed was committed Thursday night by his second wife, who is 33 years old. It is alleged that when Phillips received his pension he and his wife had a spree and it was during a drunken brawl that the murder was committed. Mrs. Phillips after the murder went to a neighbor's and remained all night. She was arrested.

Cudahy Stock Doubled.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 17.—Notice was filed with Secretary of State Rose of an increase in the capital of the Cudahy Packing company from $3,500,000 to $7,000,000. Michael Cudahy said that the increase of capitalization had no local significance. "We have extended our business in Omaha, Kansas City, and San Francisco," he said, "and the extensions mentioned require additional capital." He denied that the company intends to increase the capacity of its Chicago plant.

Shot Because of His Looks.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Joseph Beard, a former employe of the Illinois Steel company, has brought suit in the Superior court to recover $10,000 damages from Thomas Smith for injuries. Beard claims that while sitting in front of his boarding-house, Oct. 23, Smith stopped in front of the place and upon seeing him, remarked, "All coons look alike to me." Thereupon Smith pulled out a revolver and a bullet struck Beard as the latter was disappearing in a cellar way.

Smallpox Rife in Michigan.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 19.—Secretary Baker of the state board of health has been ordered by Governor Pingree to at once visit all the places in the upper peninsula where smallpox exists and see to it that strict quarantine is established. The disease has spread unduly above the straits since it broke out there a few weeks ago and reports indicate that the local health authorities have been lax in their methods.

Medford, Mass., Nov. 19.—Medford marshes are covered with men and boys digging for buried treasure. Thursday two lads dug up a pot containing about $300 in old silver coins. Most of the American money was minted between 1828 and 1838.

Thuggery in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—While the heads of departments were criticising the law against robbery and thuggery and while policemen were arresting dozens of men on suspicion, crime was served up to the Chicago public liberally. Some of those arrested were allowed to go on bonds signed by professional and worthless bondsmen. To this practice State's Attorney Deneen lays many of the hold-ups and burglaries.

Fear Yellow Fever Peril.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 19.—Alarm continues to be felt in the south over the spread of yellow fever at Natchez and Brook Haven, in this state. While it is hoped that the fever will be speedily stamped out and the state board is working hard to accomplish that result, yet the new cases reported from day to day cause a fear that the health department will be unable to hold the dreaded disease in check. Dr. Gant, chief inspector for the state board of health, to-day reported one case of the disease at Brook Haven and two at Natchez. The victims of the fever are being closely watched by representatives of the state board.

Gems Are Seized.

New York, Nov. 19.—Noticeable among the passengers aboard the liner New York which arrived today from Southampton and Cherbourg was a stylish woman, who, according to the passenger list, is "Miss M. Dorrance." It is said that she was escorted by a dentist who appears on the passenger list as Dr. Franklin D. Kelly. Both live in Peoria, Ill. The young woman's trunk containing diamonds was seized by the customhouse inspectors. The estimate of the young man who superintended the job of discovery is that the diamonds are worth about $5,000.

Steals His Heart and $500.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Fred Specht, who came to Chicago from Nebraska with $700, expecting to return with a wife, has started suit in attachment in the circuit court against any possible property which his intended wife may own. At present he has neither the $700 nor the wife, and has been unable to find any of her property. Specht says that in July of this year an advertisement was inserted in his home paper by a person signing the name of Marie Belinger and offering to marry the man who would loan her $500 to pay off a second mortgage on a $9,000 house and lot which she claimed to own. He came to Chicago and visited her at her home in Englewood Oct. 1. He believed that everything was arranged for the marriage and gave her $500 to pay off the mortgage. They were to start for Nebraska the next day and be married. He went to the Princeton hotel in Englewood to meet her, as agreed upon. His sweetheart, he learned later, had left early in the morning. He says that he has been unable to find out anything regarding her whereabouts.

Two Generals Near Death.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 19.—Two of the six surviving confederate generals in Kentucky are reported to be at death's door. They are Brigadier General Thomas H. Taylor and Brigadier General W. F. Perry. General Perry is in a critical condition at Bowling Green, the result of a fall in a convulsion. General Taylor was a colonel in the Mexican war and in the civil war he was a brigadier in the army of Northern Virginia, where he achieved a splendid record.

To Adopt the Reconcentrado Plan.

Durban, Nov. 19.—The Natal Mercury reports that among the measures to be adopted in order to pacify the Boers is the reconcentrado plan of Lord Roberts.

DISFRANCHISING OF THE NEGRO.

While the colored vote of the south has always been hampered, and in some of the extreme southern states practically prohibited, the question has never excited the attention that it is likely to this year, on account of the action that has been taken by the gulf states. William E. Curtis, in a recent letter to the Chicago Record, after calling attention to the fourteenth amendment to the constitution, says:

"If anyone will take the trouble to look at the returns he will notice that very few republican votes are ever cast south of Tennessee and Missouri. No canvass was made by the republicans this year in any of the Gulf states or in South Carolina, Georgia or Arkansas. The reason for this was recently explained in the United States senate by Mr. Tillman, who said "we cheated them, we bulldozed them, we shot them and finally drove them away from the polls." Under the Tilman system, for example, Mr. Norton of South Carolina was elected to congress by 1,765 votes to 151 for Mr. Evans, his opponent, while Mr. Caldwell alone received as many votes as were cast for all the seven members of congress from South Carolina or Mississippi. Mr. Foss of Illinois received more.

The entire numer of votes cast for members of congress in the seven districts of South Carolina was 28,831, and in the seven districts of Mississippi 25,797, while in the seven districts of Illinois, where the average is about the same as through the northern states, the number of votes cast was 274,379. Thus in Illinois 274,379 voters have seven representatives, or an average ofone member of congress to 39,197 voters. In Mississippi there is a representative for every 3,883 voters, and in South Carolina one for every 4,119. The average number of congressmen from Illinois represents 10,000 more voters than all the seven representatives from South Carolina or the seven from Mississippi combined.

It remains to be seen whether congress will deal with this question, which presents some very serious aspects. If the provisions of the constitution are enforced, the south would lose fully one-half of her representation in the house and also in the electoral college. This of course would mean bitterness and the opening of old wounds not fully healed.

The fact that the negro race is ignorant, and possibly a menace to the south,—which by force of circumstances is his home,—is fully recognized by the people of the north. Another fact is just as apparent, and that is the desire throughout the north to abolish sectional lines and cultivate close and friendly relations with the white people of the south. Whether this can ever be done is an open question, that seems as far from solution as it did twenty-five years ago.

* * *

The negro of the south, several million strong, is with us to remain, as an inheritance of the civil war. He was given the right of suffrage as a necessity growing out of the war. He is not responsible for being here, and he can not be removed. He is not adapted to the northern climate, and so he will continue in the south. If the educational provision is applied to him, as it undoubtedly should be, it should be applied to all citizens, both north and south, not by state, but by national enactment. That would mean compulsory education, not in theory, but in fact.

* * *

If the nation has reached a degree of intelligence and patriotism equal to this emergency then the question can be solved without injustice to the south or any other part of the country.

There is a world of ignorance in the north. This is painfully apparent at every edection, and while the color line is not a feature, the line of intelligence and good citizenship very pronounced.

The time will come, if it has not yet arrived, when the right of suffrage will be regarded as a sacred right, and when that bright day dawns upon the nation the question of color will not be considered.

RENEWED CONFIDENCE.

The foundation of national and individual prosperity is confidence; not simply faith in honesty of thought and integrity of purpose, both of which are essential, but confidence in the wisdom and good judgment, that outlines and executes a policy that is safe and conservative. Honesty is not the only requisite necesary to inspire confidence. It is frequently said of some men, "That man is honest; his word is as good as his bond." And yet the recipient of this compliment may not be worthy of confidence in business circles, because he may be visionary or reckless or lazy. It requires more than honesty to inspire confidence.

What is true of the individual, is true in a larger sense of the nation.

Mr. Bryan has never been accused of dishonesty; in fact, he has been commended by men who don't endorse him, for his untiring and persistent efforts to establish conditions that he honestly believes to be right. His large and enthusiastic following is mainly credited with being honest, yet in the campaign of 1896, when so much uncertainty was felt concerning results, confidence fled; money was locked up; busines was at a standstill; and labor was helpless.

These conditions prevailed, not because the Bryan party was accused of dishonesty, but because the policy it advocated was considered unsafe and dangerous. The same conditions existed during the early months of Grover Cleveland's second administration.

Some uneasines was experienced along the same lines in the last campaign, and not until midnight of November 6 was confidence fully restored. The following day Wall street —which is always a safe barometer— was a scene of busy activity, and the day goes into history as the largest in volume of business that was ever experienced.

These facts are not only true, but all over the country, business enterprises, that had been held in abeyance, commenced active operations, and today the land is a busy work shop.

Wealth is very important and money a great convenience. The combination represents the mighty engine, and the capable engineer at the throttle. But the powerful machine, with its intelligent equipment is powerless, until the valve is opened wide, and the motive power rushes in and sets the idle wheels in motion, and with renewed and ever increasing impetus picks up the neglected freightage and carries it on to success and destiny. Confidence is fully restored. The seal of approval rests upon a wise as well as an honest administration. The time to do business is when business is to be done, and that time is now.

Iowa can be trusted for about as much fool legislation as any state east of the Missouri. The state voted on a constitutional amendment at the recent election, and now the people are so muddled up that they don't know whether they are going or coming. The amendment carried and provides for biennial sessions of the legislature. The officers elected will be obliged to sit on the fence for two years before they can be sworn in. Iowa raises good corn, and occasionally something of a disturbance.

American enterprise and religious zeal is a hard combination to beat. A Catholic youth by the name of Moore recently left Chicago without a nickel, to visit the pope. He crossed the ocean as a stowaway and was locked up in a London prison on his arrival. After serving a short sentence he started out again saying he would spend Christmas with His Holiness.

The government has decided very wisely not to build a plant for the manufacture of armor plate. The agitation, however, has resulted in a reduction in price. Contracts were recently let to the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies for 36,000 tons at $420 per ton, a reduction of $125 over former prices, representing a saving of over $2,000,000.

One of the important questions to come before the next congress is the Nicaragua canal. This waterway is one of great value, and it will be creditable to the United States to secure it if satisfactory terms can be negotiated. The Nicaraguan government is very friendly and through its minister suggests that all necessary concessions will be made.

The military college of Nebraska has also caught the contagion, and 95 per cent. of the boys have gone home because they can't talk out loud in meeting. Mr. Bryan should speak to them. The boys mean all right, but they have caught the spirit of oratory.

Minnesota has a "Jag-cure" law which provides that one inebriate to every 10,000 population may be treated in a hospital at public expense. This is showing a little partiality to the confirmed drunkard. If the state contemplates reform it should remove the limit.

The State Board of Charities of Illinois has voted to abolish itself, and recommends the establishment of a State Board of Control. The state of Wisconsin came to its senses on the same question some years ago.

The latest bulletin from Nebraska reports Mr. Bryan's temperatue normal, pulse active, brain busy, tongue tired, pen working, resolution firm, imagination: the white house in 1904, with Adlai a close second.

Eighty-six thousand women in Colorado said to Senator Wolcott the other day "We think too much of you to have you leave us for another term," and the senator, who is always obliging, said "I'll stay." Great is the love of woman.

Mr. Croker is out in a new role as reformer. The lessons of the campaign are evidently bearing fruit.

TENNESSEE BARS SALE OF CIGARETTES

Supreme Court of the United States Upholds the Decision of the State Court

Washington, Nov. 19.—The supreme court of the United States today held to be constitutional the law of Tennessee which prohibits the sale of cigarettes in that state. Wm. B. Austin appealed from the Tennessee supreme court claiming that cigarettes were imported into the state in original packages and that by prohibiting such importations the state was interfering with inter-state commerce. Brown rendered the decision; Fuller, Shiras Peckham and Brewer dissenting, the latter holding that the full control of inter-state commerce is vested in congress.

THREE NEGROES LYNCHED.

Mob at Jefferson, Texas, Hangs Them to a Bridge.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 19.—James Shaw, Elijah Mayers and Freeman Perpume, negroes, were lynched Thursday night near Jefferson by a mob of 1,000 men.

The mob overpowered the jailer at the Marion county jail and took the prisoners out. The negroes had been in jail since Nov. 1 on the charge of assaulting Dr. Stallup at Jefferson on the night of Oct. 28 and injuring him so that he died.

The negroes were lynched from a bridge on the Texas and Pacific road. No arrests have yet been made.

Governor Is Notified.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 19.—Gov. Sayers' attention was called today to the lynching of three negroes at Jefferson, Tex. The state authorities will make a rigid investigation of the affair and if the members of the mob can be identified they will be arrested and prosecuted.

Better Give Him "Jessie."

The story is told that when the young man who afterward became Gen. Fremont eloped with his Jessie, "Tom" Benton, the great senator, made terrific threats of what he would do to the young man. He would give him roasts and bullets and hades, to all of which Mrs. Benton quietly remarked, "You had better give him Jessie, my dear."

Eagles Frightened by Bagpipes.

A Scottish highlander who owns a sheep farm in a mountainous district of California is in the habit almost daily of playing his bagpipes all over the ground. The skirling has had the happy effect of scaring eagles out of the locality, in which birds of prey had formerly done considerable damage by carrying off lambs.

New Berry Exhibited.

Recently a new fruit was exhibited to the fellows of the Royal Horticultural society in London. The plant bearing it is a hybrid between the raspberry and the common blackberry The taste of the fruit combines the flavor of the dewberry with that of the raspberry, and it comes into perfection as the raspberries are failing.

CASE OF C. P. BEST AGAINST RAILROAD

HAS BEEN DRAGGING IN THE COURTS A LONG TIME.

Mr. Best Secured a Judgement for $12,000, But the Company Appealed —It Is Now on Again in the Cook County Courts—Is a Very Difficult Law Suit.

The case of C. P. Best against the Cleveland, Cincinnati and St. Louis. R. R. for injuries in a railroad wreck has been on trial in the circuit court for Cook county since last Tuesday. William Ruger of this city has been in Chicago trying the case and expects it will be finished in a few days.

The defense made a motion Saturday to direct a motive for the defense and this motion is being argued today. In case the judge decides in favor of the defense the case will come to a sudden stop.

This has become quite a celebrated case and has already been tried in the federal and supreme courts of the state of Illinois. The supreme court which is now on.

The last time that the case was tried Best was given a judgment of $12,500 and from this judgment the railroad company appealed to the supreme court and the decision of the lower court was there reversed and the case sent back for a new trial.

The plaintiff in the case, C. P. Best, is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Best. He was riding on the defendant's railroad when the caboose was telescoped by a train following them and the conductor and brakeman were killed. Best was thrown against a red hot caboose stove and on account of the injuries and burns sustained at that time his right leg had to be amputated. He brought suit against the railroad to recover for the loss of his leg and after many delays the case was tried with the results already mentioned.

The railroad company claims that Best had no right on this train as it did not carry passengers and that he had no ticket and that they were not responsible for his injuries. Best claims that he could not buy a ticket at the station and that he had money to pay his fare, but the conductor had not asked him for it.

The Illinois courts have a rule that a man cannot testify to any fact in which a man that has been killed is concerned as he cannot be there to contradict it. This is causing Best's attorneys great trouble and it shuts out much valuable evidence on the part of the plaintiff.

Best's many friends hope that he may be successful in getting a large judgment.

QUIET SUNDAY IN SUPERIOR.

Newspapers and Medicines Only Articles Permitted On Sale.

West Superior, Nov. 19—"Medicines and newspapers only" was the order of the day in this city yesterday. The drug stores displayed that sign, the cigar stores displayed nothing at all and the saloons were closed tight.

Superior never saw such a quiet Sabbath. The mayor's order to the chief of police was obeyed to the letter, only livery stables, street cars, restaurants and others expressly excepted by the city attorney's opinion, being permitted to run.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO JAMES HEBRON

James Hebron, an employe of Alexander Galbraith, met with a serious accident last Saturday night about 6 o'clock. Hebron was engaged in feeding the cylde colts. Some of them were rather unruly and he slapped one of them on the rump with a shovel he had in his hand. The colt resented this kind of treatment and kicked at Hebron, striking him squarely in the mouth and knocking him down. He had a number of teeth loosened and received a bad cut on the side of his mouth, which required some stitches to close. He was in such a position that he did not receive the full force of the blow or the results might have been much more serious. It is safe to say he will be more careful next time how he handles the colts and where he is standing.

"Oh, I think highly—very highly, of all English men," said the emperor, very gravely, "simply because they are related to English women."

PLATFORM WAGON ON A STRANGE JOURNEY

Liveryman MacLean Sends a Rig to Chicago to Bring Home the Bodies of Two Children.

Colen C. MacLean has sent a pair of horses and a platform wagon on a long strange mission. It is the first trip of this kind that has been made from the city in a long time.

A former resident of Janesville, who now resides in Chicago, had two children die with diphtheria some time ago and their bodies were placed in zinc lined caskets and interred in a cemetery in Chicago.

The father of the children was anxious to have the bodies buried in the cemetery here beside some of the other members of the family. He applied to the transportation companies to bring them to this city and was told that they could not carry the bodies on accocunt of their having died of a contagious disease.

The law does not allow them to carry any bodies of persons that have died of any contagious disease. The father was informed that the only way that the bodies could be transfered from Chicago to this city was to carry them overland. He immediately set about getting some liveryman to do the work.

Mr. MacLean made him a proposition which he accepted and this morning Frank Palmer, one of MacLean's drivers started on his long journey to Chicago and return. The roads and weather are very much against making fast time and Palmer was instructed to take all the time necessary for the trip.

Mr. MacLean figures that the journey will take about a week under the existing circumstances. The father will accompany Palmer on the return trip to this city. It is a strange journey and one that is seldom made in this part of the country.

A GREAT STATE'S DISGRACE.

Subject Discussed at an Indignation Meeting.

BURNING OF NEGRO PORTER

The Cause of a Lively Indignation Meeting in Denver—Press Pilloried by the Pulpit for Fomenting the Public to Lawless Act.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 19.—The indignation of the people of Denver over the burning of the negro Potter was expressed Sunday in the most emphatic manner. The disgrace to the state was the theme in every pulpit in the city. Regret and denunciation were expressed by all, and almost without exception the speakers placed upon the press the responsibility for exciting the people to a frenzy. From the time the murder was committed the papers were filled with details of the crime, treated in the most sensational manner. There was little talk of lynching, even at Limon, until the papers had manufactured the sentiment. Sunday the resentment of the greater part of the community against the press found expression in the pulpits and at a great mass meeting held in the afternoon in the First Baptist church. Fully two thousand people were packed in the building and many could not gain admittance.

Among those on the platform were Gov. Charles S. Thomas, Mayor Henry V. Johnson, Joel F. Vaile, President W. F. Slocum of Colorado College, and a large number of Denver's clergymen. C. M. Hobbs, president of the city Y. M. C. A., opened the meeting. In his opening remarks he voiced the feeling of those present by saying:

"The crime that was comitted on a quiet country road not far from Denver ten days ago wrought this community to a pitch of excitement and indignation to which it was never wrought before. But a second crime has been committed that has tarnished the fair name of the state as never before. For the first time I feel that I should don sackcloth and ashes and mourn before the city's gates."

Leading Men Among Speakers.

Gov. Thomas was the first speaker. A chorus of hisses greeted him. His friends started applause. Those who applauded predominated, but many apparently blamed the governor for not preventing the lynching. Among other things the governor said:

"I do not censure the negro's execution, but the manner of it. I do not mean that I uphold lynch law; no law-abiding citizen can well say that he does."

The governor explained that every legal process was taken by him to prevent the delivery of the prisoner to the Lincoln county sheriff. Speaking of the offenders he said:

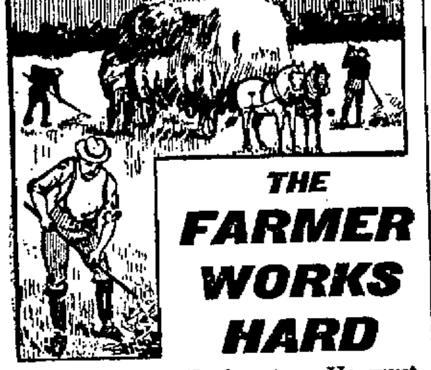
"It is impossible to indict a county. They would have to indict themselves, and if they were convicted they would have to be taken to the penitentiary by the chief of the offenders, the sheriff himself."

Officials Are Criticised.

The reference to Sheriff Freeman was greeted with hearty applause. Rabbi W. S. Freedman said:

"The same passions that worked destruction to the child at Limon threw a match into the crowd and lighted the same passions that worked in the negro."

Joel F. Vaile sharply criticised Mayor Johnson, who made a bitter reply. Governor, mayor and sheriff all seemed to be held partly responsible by those present.

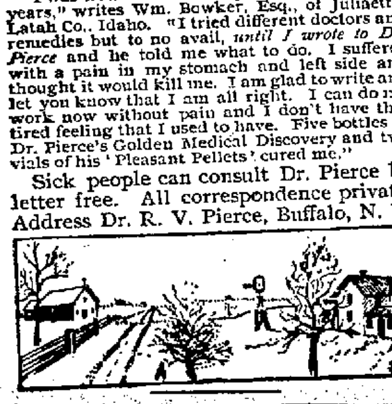


THE FARMER WORKS HARD

For a living. He has to. He must "make hay while the sun shines," no matter how he feels. The result is overwork. The stomach usually gives the first sign of strain. The organs of digestion and nutrition are deranged. Food does not nourish. Indigestion appears. In such a case Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery re-establishes the health by a complete cure of the diseased organs of digestion and nutrition. It cleanses the stomach, purifies the blood and removes the causes of disease. It is a temperance medicine, and contains no whisky nor alcohol.

"I was troubled with indigestion for about two years," writes Wm. Bowker, Esq., of Juliaette, Latah Co., Idaho. "I tried different doctors and remedies but to no avail, until I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he told me what to do. I suffered with a pain in my stomach and left side and thought it would kill me. I am glad to write and let you know that I am all right. I can do my work now without pain and I don't have that tired feeling that I used to have. Five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' cured me."

Sick people can consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.



FRENCH AND YANKEES CLASH

Small Clashes Between the Allied Forces in China.

Tientsin, Nov. 19.—The presence of a large number of troops here in contiguous camps and with naturally existing national prejudices is causing considerable friction, and several unpleasant incidents have occurred. So far, however, none of them has progressed beyond the stage of incidents easily adjusted, and on all sides there is a very evident disposition to treat these occurrences as the natural result of military conditions. One of the chief causes of friction has been the number of pontoon bridges thrown across the river. There are three of these within the space of a mile and as the river is crowded with junks and towboats some conflict has been the result. A few days ago a string of twenty junks coming down stream was held up at the French bridge for several hours, in spite of the protests of the American guards on board. Finally word reached the American headquarters of the condition of affairs and an officer was sent up to the bridge. He found a French sentinel on the forward boat and promptly ordered him off. There was a sharp interchange between the American and French officers, but the sentry was removed. Gen. Sumner then arrived and the result was that the bridge was opened and the boats allowed to pass.

To Pay Americans $10,000.

Canton, Nov. 19.—The American consul here has been notified that the board of reconstruction has been ordered to pay $10,000 as the first installment in settlement of American claims. All the consuls are pressing for indemnity for the destroyed missions. A special deputy has been appointed for each district to estimate the damage done, the Chinese apparently realizing that settlement of the claims is the only method of ridding Canton of foreign gunboats.

A fire has occurred here which destroyed between 200 and 300 houses.

Predicts Ruin of St. Louis.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 19.—The 2,500 colored people of this city are greatly excited over the prophecies of Mrs. George Overby, a colored evangelist, who says the city of St. Louis and part of Evansville are to be swept off the earth by a great flood because of the wickedness of the people. Mrs. Overby will leave Saturday next for St. Louis to warn the people of the "wrath to come." Many of the colored people here are fasting and praying and hold meetings every night.

Plan a Vast Lumber Trust.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 19.—A mammoth consolidation of lumber companies will probably be announced within a week or ten days. It is understood that all the capital necessary to secure the consolidation will be forthcoming and that the Belmonts will finance the deal, the total value of the various plants being about $25,000,000. The combination is to control the market for Carolina pine.

Columbia May Go West.

New York, Nov. 19.—Manager Shoemaker of the Columbia university football eleven has received a request from the University of California, suggesting a game between the two universities to be played in California in the Christmas holidays. The plan is looked on with favor by Columbia and the game will probably be arranged.

Miss Zimmerman Now a Duchess.

London, Nov. 19.—The Duke of Manchester and Miss Helene Zimmerman were quietly married in this city on Wednesday. The announcement was authorized last night by Miss Effie Evans, an aunt of the bride. The news may be a surprise to Eugene Zimmerman, the Cincinnati millionaire, or it may not, as many letters and cablegrams have been sent to the father of the young woman in the last fortnight by the Duke and by Miss Zimmerman asking his consent to the marriage, but it is unknown here whether that consent was granted or not.

SHAFTER ON WEYLER'S BRAG.

Says Weyler Evidently Talked for an Effect.

San Francisco, Nov. 19.—Gen. Shafter, when asked to comment on Gen. Weyler's criticism of the Spanish conduct of the war in Cuba, was not inclined to take Weyler's assertions seriously. He said that evidently Weyler was talking for effect, as every military man knew that the Spaniards in Cuba, without the aid of a fleet to prevent the landing of invaders in any required number, could not have held the island against the Americans. Gen. Shafter added:

"I do not care to speak of General Weyler's record in Cuba, or whether or not he has received unjust censure.

"It is very well known that the force of Spain in Cuba outnumbered by several times the force landed for the reduction of Santiago, but there were but few available to operate against the American troops.

"Had the 21,000 troops stationed at other points not far from Santiago promptly moved to the attack of the Fifth army corps the difficulties of the Americans would have been greatly increased, but I do not think they could have been driven into the sea.

"It is possible, however, that if these troops had co-operated with the 3,000 that did re-enforce the troops of Santiago on the night of July 2, in making a vigorous attack, they might have placed the American army on the defensive for a few days, but the ultimate capture of Santiago could only have been delayed. Gen. Linares' telegrams to his government as to the condition of affairs clearly indicate this.

"That the fleet was necessary for the preservation of Spanish possession of Cuba was clearly shown by the fact that immediately after its destruction and the surrender of 24,000 of the 150,000 soldiers then in Cuba, overtures for peace were commenced, the island being then absolutely at the mercy of the American army and navy.

"Results are more conclusive than theories, and what Gen. Weyler might or might not have done is a matter which appears to be of very little interest at this time."

RESCUE DEFEATS DEATH.

Eighteen-Year-Old Boy Found in Cave Starving.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 19.—Two weeks ago a man was found in a cave at Corlett, six miles west of Cheyenne, emaciated, starving and portions of his body rotting away. He was brought to a Cheyenne hospital and today regained consciousness.

He says his name is James McLerne of Chicago, and that he is only eighteen years old, although he looks at least forty years of age. His father and mother reside on South Clark street, Chicago, and the boy says he left there three months ago and went to Idaho to work on a railroad.

Falling ill, he started for home and got as far as Corlett when he crawled into the cave. He laid there three days and, realizing that he was dying, attempted to crawl out. He was too weak and fell back into the cavern, where he laid two days longer before losing consciousness.

He says he thinks he became unconscious on a Monday, and as he was not found until Saturday, he must have lain in the cave at least 11 days, and all this time without food or water.

When he left Idaho, McLerne weighed 270 pounds, but now he does not weigh 90 pounds. He is taking nourishment, and the physicians say he will recover. It may not be necessary to amputate his feet and hands which were beginning to decay when McLerne was found.

TALES OF POVERTY.

Pathetic Episodes In Daily Life as Told by M. Quad.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

"How much?" sharply asked the pawnbroker as he took the glittering ring from the hands of the pale faced and perturbed young woman.

"Fo-four hundred dollars," she stammered.

"I will give you 5 cents!"

"Wha-what do you mean?"

"The stones in this ring are only colored glass, and the ring itself is only rolled gold. If you paid 15 cents for it, you have been swindled."

"But it was given me by my Charlie, my beloved, to clinch our betrothal," she protested. "Villain, how dare you intimate that my Charlie, who is the soul of honor, would give me a worthless bauble?"

"Oh, it was Charlie, eh?" queried the heartless man behind the counter. "Then that explains. I have no less than a dozen of his engagement rings offered me every year, and all like this. He buys them by the carload and gets 99 per cent off. Try the cooper shop around the corner. Please don't faint away in here, as this is my rush hour!"

"I—I shall not faint. No, never! I shall be cool and calm, and I shall sit in the parlor and wait for Charlie's arrival, and when he comes—when his smiling face appears at the door"—

"Whoof!" finished the pawnbroker as he advanced 10 cents on a bucksaw.

* * * * * * *

"This Bible," said the pale faced young man as he extended the well worn volume, "was given me by my dear and only mother."

"And she is dead?"

"She is. She died in my arms five years ago—that is, she died while I was out after a glass of beer."

"And she is in heaven now?"

"She is. She looked down upon me as I entered this place, and, though I heard it not, I have no doubt she said, 'Albert, my beloved son, I am sorry that it has come to this, but it is better to pawn my last gift than to starve.' That's probably what she said, sir, and I want a dollar on it."

"Rats!"

"Then a half."

"More rats!"

"Gimme a quarter, then. A quarter will enable me to get a new suit of clothes, pay up my back rent and go [illegible] to grow up with the country."

"One dime only."

"What, thou scion of Adamant! Ten cents for my dead mother's last gift!"

"I have a ton of 'em."

"Ten cents for the volume which has been my solace and comfort as I starved and thirsted in my garret room!"

"Take it or leave it."

"I will take it, but in the darkness of tonight when that sainted mother returns to earth and hovers o'er my couch"—

"Bah! Git out!" M. QUAD.

Exceptional.

"I suppose you've run over and killed more or less people?" he said to the Boston trolley car motorman.

"Oh, of course," was the reply.

"And is there such a thing as getting used to the sensation of taking human life?

"Well, I don't feel as wabbly over the thing as I did at first, but"—

"But you do cringe a little?"

"I did the other day when I ran over an old man and recognized him, but that was a special case, you may say."

"How special?"

"He was my own father!"

No End to It.

It is believed he has a wife living in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a member of Company C, Sixth regiment, United States infantry. He went to a local boarding house and was assigned to room 13. Blaze Ruins Part of City.

Phillippi, W. Va., Nov. 19.—A fire which originated in the Valley hotel, destroyed a large portion of the business area of the city. The blaze is supposed to have started from a defective flue in the hotel. The loss will approximate $100,000.
